The Child Welfare Postsecondary Support Program, also known as NC Reach, was established by the 2007 General Assembly to provide funding for college students who aged out of North Carolina public foster care or whose adoption from North Carolina public foster care was finalized on or after their 12th birthday.

Applicants must meet the following eligibility requirements:

• Either age out of North Carolina public foster care by age 18-25 or be adopted from North Carolina public foster care on or after the student’s 12th birthday.
• Enroll at either a state community college or one of the 16 constituent institutions of the University of North Carolina system, at least half time, pursuing an undergraduate degree, diploma, or certificate.
• Make satisfactory progress toward the completion of undergraduate study.
• Comply with registration requirements for military service unless they are exempt from registration.
• Not be in default or owe a refund under any federal or state loan or grant program.
